

Joint Industrial Action in March

The three unions of UNISON, GMB and Unite the Union at Yorkshire Ambulance Service have all been keen to co-ordinate action. We are now pleased to say that during our days of action in March on both Wednesday 8th March and Monday 20th March, all the unions will be working towards the same goal on the same day.

On 8th March, all unions will be on the picket lines together with only slight differences in derogations and start time, however with more time to arrange, for the 20th March, all unions will be taking the same action at the same times.

Action on the 8th March by all unions will include only responding to confirmed Category 1 and IFT 1 calls from the picket lines. With this in place, and all unions working together, it will see an increase in pressure being put on the Trust which we hope will transfer into increased pressure on the government.

The Government has announced today a willingness to engage better with all the health unions involved in the dispute, rather than just cherry pick. Regardless of this we need to increase the pressure. With this co-ordinated approach that is exactly what we will do.

Stand Together. Fight Together. Win Together!
